Arnaud,

The days for the calls are at my discretion – see page 19 of the attached. Per the court order they would be between 6pm and 8pm. As I said in my last email, we will attempt to call you today and tomorrow evening. If you are unable to make that time work, please let me know.

Separately, you should know that the girls are thrilled to be back in the US. They were thrilled to come home, and they seem more calm, happy and well-adjusted than when I first saw them 10 days ago.

I do expect that your conversation with the girls will be appropriate and upbeat. Any discussion of your legal machinations with the children or attempt at manipulation is inappropriate.

As a reminder, you have been deemed a significant risk and because of your behavior, you no longer have the rights normally afforded under ORS 107.154. You no longer have the right to know where I live, or contact me about anything other than your allotted supervised visitation and coordination of phone calls until you have met the criteria outlined in the Additional terms and conditions of the final custody judgment. I am attaching the judgment to this email for your reference.

Separately, if you have purchased health insurance for the children, please provide that at your earliest convenience.

Heidi I can call at 6pm Paris time with the girls but you didn't call yesterday as you were supposed to and made me wait more than 3h.

Please stop this insane kidnapping and surrender yourself to the police. This is extremely traumatizing to the children. They were literally having nightmares of you kidnapping them.

Think about your relationship with them and the consequences for you as well. You're being searched internationally at this point.

We can de-escalate this situation in the inter of the children if you cooperate with the French authorities, I'm willing to ensure that you would still be able to be connected to the girls in France if you surrender now and stop this crazy escape from France now.
